COMMISSIONER CARTER KILLED.

His Is the Only Life Lost in Defending the Governments several Brief Skirndshes, in Which Fourteen Rebels Were Killed and Many Nade Prisoners.

San Parker of Jan. 19. -The steamer Alamola, just arms of Iron Auckland and Sydney via H molatu, branes news of a revolution and I had-had at Honolulu. Charles In Carter, who was one of the anmexation courses somers, was killed, and other government supporters were wounded There has been much fighting and as least to arosu natives have been rest. Resert Wiker is the leader of the rebels. The firsting was still in progression the Alaneda left Honolulu on Jan. 11, but to government forces had practically overcome the revolutionists. The Associate Catriss correspondent write-under date of Jan. 115 There were no frish developments in the threatened consenz until last Sunday afternoon, when the marchal's detectivebrought in news for that office immediately to sarabion the cabinet and leading officers of the ambitary and Catizens' Guard for consultation. In a few minutes after their arrival of puty Marshal Brown and a squad of police, under Captain Parker, left for the beach at Walkiki, with orderto search the premises of Henry Bertlemann, a prominent royalist, for arms and ammunition. Just previous to reaching the place the pass - was joined by Charles L. Carter, Alfred Carter and J. B. Castle who liv-d near by, all nembers of the

On appreaching the house the deputy marshal left the squad on the lawn, while he entered the house, and finding Bertlemann and a strange white man there proceeded to read his warrant. When half way through shots were heard from the rear of the house. The others asked quickly: "What loss that mean?"

Bettenman replied: "I know nothing about it. There are no arms howed Brown rushed over to join his squad just as Charles Carter shout di "There they are under the beat-hed, 'and pointing to a shed in the rear of the lot, and rushing forward, followed by his cousin, Castle, and the others. At that instant a volley wa-fired by a crowd of natives under the shed, and Charles Carter and Lieutenant Holl fell, wounded. The police charged and drove the natives out on the beach. when the latter retreated to the brush, keeping up a de-ultery firing. As the police only numbered eight, and there Were three or four times as many native; they returned to the house, taking with them three of the rebels whom they had enptured in the meice, during which some sixty shots were fired. Taking the wounded men in and first caring for them as well as possible, they searched the prisoners, placing Bertlemann under arrest. The prison as were all heavily armed. By this time the rebels regained their courage and surrounded the house, firing into it repeatedly. Leaving one man to guard the prisoners, the officers returned the fire, but without effect, as their assailants could not be seen.

Realizing that their case was desperate it was resolved that Brown and Parker should make a dash for their horses, which were tied near the house. This was done with success, and they were soon at the nearest telephone. Alfred Carter, who had been missing since the wounding of his consin, was supposed to be dead, but in reality had escaped with the same idea, and for the purpose of getting a doctor for his cousin. He had already telephoned to the marshal's office, besides being fortunate in finding a doctor, with whom he returned to the scene of the fighting alone. On approaching the gate they were met with a volley. Dropping to the ground Carter returned three shots but realizing the impossibility of getting into the house uniment they both made their escape.

About this time the natives were advaming on the houses to take it by storm. when one of the odiners it dd. Bertlemann he would blow his brains out on the instant the first man went inside the house and hirt any one. Bertlemann caded to the naives outside to that affect, and they at once withdrew and ceased firing.

Within ten munit's after receiving H. telephone of the fight a detail of soldiers was on the way as fist as horses and wheels could earry them the distance being about four miles. As soon as they came within shooting distance of the scene of action the natives fixed a parting volley and fled. Alir of Carter and Dr. Walters came up at this time and were quickly followed by others. Charles Carter received the medical attention he so much needed, but his wounds were so serious that he died early the next morning. Holi's wound was through the breast, but not necessarily fatal.

Soon after Deputy Marshal Brown arrived and the premises were thoroughly searched. The Japanese servant denied that there were arms, but a six-shooter at his ear induce , him to bring to light several rifles and pistols.

At daylight a force of natives attacked the guard from Diamond hill, the latter being forced to retire. Shortly after twenty-five more regulars arrived, making the government force fifty, while the royalists numbered 200. President Murray, of the Citizens' Guard, started with twenty-five to attack the royalists from the rear, but they were fired upon from ambush and forced to retreat.

As soon as it was known in Honolulu, on Sunday afternoon, that there was armed resistance to the government four companies of militia were sent to the iscene. On Monday martaial law was declared, and at 2 o'clock on that day the government troops surrounded the rebels and routed them, killing several and taking seven prisoners. From them it was learned that the leaders of the rebels were Sam Nowlin, former colonel of the queen's household guard, and Robert Wilcox, who rolls at $2 per month, 9,921 at $4 and 1,000 was the leader of the revolution in 1887, at $3.

the other prominent ones being half whites, formerly in the service of the queen. After the first surrender natives came dropping into the government camps in banches until there were soon more prisoners than troops. The prisoners claimed they had 60 rifles, but only 550 men were arrested.

At 6 o'clock the government forces camped for the night, pur-ult being impossible in the dense brush. While this was going on the tug Eleu, with a field piece and a detail of sharp-hooters, left Honolulu and ma half hour was in a p > sition to shell from the rear the nativewhose camp front J King's command. A few well fired shots scattered them like sheep, one shot falling directly into their camp. It is known that five men were killed and a large number wounded. The natives were pursued by Lieutenant Coyne's company as far as the nature of the ground of the same his field. the ground allowed. A shot from his field piece scattered a crowd of them who appeared on the edge of the crater, and four dead bodies was the result.

From statements of the natives captured it was ascertained that the captain of the little steamer Waimanalo was responsible for the landing of the arms with which the natives were supplied. The entire crew was arrested. The mate confessed, and when confronted with his testhmony the eaptain also acknowledged his guilt. The government claims to have evidence of the whole transaction from the original purchase until their final disposi-

Broker Chapman a "Prisoner." WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Broker Elverton R. Chapman, of New York city, who, with two other brokers and two newspaper men, were indicted for refusing to answer inquiries of the senate sugar inrestiguting committee, was yesterday placed nominally in the custody of the United States marshal. His surety, Lewis J. Davis, of this city, accompanied him to the criminal court late in the afternoon and surrendered him in order to petition the United States supreme court for a writ of habers corpus. Judge Cole unmediately ordered that the bondsman be relieved of further responsibility, and, the defendant admitted to the custody of Marshal Wilson. Application will be made next week to hear the case on petition for haben-corpus Proceedings in the cases of the four others will be governed largely by this case.

A Successful Pound Party.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.-A large part of Washington attended a pound party given by The Evening Star for the benefit of the poor of the city, who have been suffering severely this winter. Every one was asked to bring a pound of something useful and the result was astonishing. Over a hundred wagon loads of provisions were contributed. Of this four loads were of flour, and the rest was nearly all of a substantial and nourishing character. A few persons sent golden English "pounds" sterling, others pounds of copper cents and a few pounds of silver. The food will be distributed through the regular charity organizations of the city.

Brooklyn's Street Car Strike Still Unsettled BROOKLYN, Jan. 16 -The strike situation is becoming more grave hour by hour. The failure of the state board of mediation and arbitration to secure a settlement has not helped to allay public apprehension of impending labor troubles of the first magnitude. Mayor Schieren's request for militial adds to the feeling. Yesterday was an exciting one in the annals of Brooklyn. In every quarter, where cars were running. there were nots, but fortunately no loss of life. Several persons had very narrow escapes from a violent death. Many motormen and conductors left their cars in the street and fled for their lives.

THE ACCESS JURIST.

Judge Ricks Will Explain to the Judiciary Committee.

THE CASE PRACTICALLY SHELVED.

tee, Declares That He Will Renew the Charges on His Individual Responsibiliity as a Member of the Couse. Washingrov, Jan. 19.—The judiciary committee of the house held along session. yesterday over the R' ks cas . Representative Balley, of Texas presented the majority report, drawn by himself, and Represearchive Braderick, the minority report The real party report says the evidence establishes to collowing facts:

A. J. Rocks became crock of the circuit court for the northern district of Ohio on March 20, 157- and served in that capacity until July 30, 1850, when he became the district judge to the same district. During the time while he was clerk there were pending in the circuit court a great many cases brought by John C. Birdsall and the Birdsall Manufacturing company against various defendants, involving a question of patent infringement.

The moneys out of which Judge Rickis charged with having defrauded the govis charged with having defratted the government, says the re-port, are the fees for making final records in fifty-five of these cases, which were not finally disposed of until after he had become the judge of the district court. Notwithstanding the fact that Judge Ricks had coased to be clock of the court he claimed the right to make the final records and to collect the fees for that work.

In his own testimony Judge Ricks testifies that he reported these Ices as earned and received, but he admitted that they were neither received nor earned when he so reported them. The report quotes an answermade during the course of the investigation as to how Judge Ricks ascertained the amount for which he charged himself for records in the Birdsall cases, and says his explanation that he selected fees in the cases where he knew the parties to be solvent, if true, would discredit him, because an honest and faithful officer would not select solvent litigants for his debtors and leave the insolvent ones for

The report goes on to argue that the result of wrongful taking of these fees by Judge Ricks was to deprive Martin W. Sanders, his successor as clerk, of $55 and the government of $395.

The report closes by saying that it finds it impossible to reconcile this conduct with the rules of common honesty; and, therefore, recommends the adoption of the impeachment resolution.

The minority report reviews the charges from a different standpoint, concluding with this recommendation; "In view of all the facts in this case it is our conclusion that Judge Ricks is not guilty of any offense, that there was no intention of wrongdoing and that no moral turpitude attaches. We, therefore, recommend that the resolution reported to the house for impeachment be not adopted."

After hearing the reports the judiciary committee adopted a resolution allowing Judge Ricks to come before the committee and be heard. This is unexpected, and looks like killing the case in view of the shortness of time for action.

Speaking of the action taken by the committee, and of his intentions. Mr. Bailey said this morning: "Judge Ricks will appear next Tuesday, and the day will be taken up with an examination of him. An adjournment will be taken until next Friday, and a week will be lost. It would be nonsense to send a resolution for impeachment to the senate thirty days before adjournment. I do not intend to drop the case here. While I am chairman of the sub-committee I must follow the directions of the committee, but as soon as I am released from that office I will bring the resolution up in the house on my individual responsibility as a mem-

The supporters of Judge Ricks in the committee made the point in their arguments that the charges against Judge Ricks, if proved, amounted to no more than a technicality, and were done in his capacity as a clerk. If any action was to be taken against him they said it should be a civil suit against his bondsmen, as clerk, to recover the amounts overdrawn. They particularly called attention to the fact that there had been no concealment about his course, and all his charges were matters of record. They declare that two or three who voted for impeachment last Tuesday have changed their views and will change their votes.

Mr. Burns declared that he squared up to the policeman and said. "Brop your hand or I'll break your jaw," whereapon the officer dropped bis

Mr Burns urged that in both England and America foreigners must be prevented from degraeling the standard of comfort recognized in those countries.

Referring to the administration of justice. Mr. Burns said that the English judicial bench was theoretically perfect compared with that of America, where the capitalist brilled the legislature, corrupted the senare, squared the magistracy, chloroformed the military and buildozed every civic official. If the English Torics even could see now cantalists prostituted justice they would shoot them down as the Chicago strikers did. The American government never had a fair chance, because monopolists possessed and ruled it.

Train Caught in a Snowslide.

DENVER. Colo., Jan. 19.-Reports from the western slope of the Rockies indicate that the snowfall during the past twentyfour hours has been one of the heaviest ever known. At Ourny, Silverton and Telluride there is three feet of snow on the level, and trackets completely blocked. In places the snow is drifted twenty feet deep. A snow-lide at the Keystone mill, near Telluride, caught the Rio Grande Southern passenger train. Car windows were broken and the engine cab covered with snow. Engineer Andrew Fisher had a narrow escape.

MANY BITTER PERSONALITIES.

The Row Precipitated Over a Proposed Pension for the Widow of General Abner Doubleday-Southerners Declare Their Loyalty to the Lost Cause.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The senate yesterday passed the army appropriation bill, carrying $23,000,000 and the bill which in effect advances General. Schofield in command of the army to the rank of lieutenant general held by Generals Sherman and Sheridan. Asida from this the day was given to the debate on the Nicaragua caual. Mr. Morgan, in charge of the measure, sought to fix a time for bringing the question to a vote, but without success, and the tedious discussion goes on with little prospect of a speedy vote. Mr. Caffrey (La.) presented a new phase of the subject by offering a resolution urging a new treaty with Nicaragua and Costa Rice for the cossion of a canal route entirel under the jurisdiction of the Unite. States.

The consideration of the Indian appropriation bill was enlivened by Mr. Grosvenor, who brought up the subject of A. P. A, in connection with the appropriation for Indian schools. He denounced the manner in which he had been misrepresented during the last campaign by the agents of that organization, and declared that although himself a Protestant he had never made war on any man because of his religious faith, and if the time ever came when he was forced to do so to be popular or successful on that day he would voluntarily retire from polities. The final disposition of the paragraph relating to Indian schools was postponed.

There was another big row at the night session of the house, which grewout of the events which transpired last week. Feeiing ran high and bitter words were spoken. It started after the failure of an effort te increase the pension of the widow of General Above Doubleday and to pension another widow who performed services as voluntary nurse during the rebellion. Both bills were blocked by the obstruction of Mr. Jones, of Virginia.

Mr. Cooper (Ind.) resented this and turned on Mr. Jones savagely, and with much temper he charged him with lack of chivalry in assaulting the fair sex.

Mr. Jones absolutely denied that there was any foundation for the statement that he was lighting women. "All I am fighting for," said he, "is against the granting of large pensions to the rich, powerful and influential."

"I question the motives of the gentle-man from Virginia," retorted Mr. Cooper hotly. "I believe he is actuated by the sentiment expressed by him last Frida; night, when he said he was proud of the cause he fought for in the trenches. Although he has taken an oath now to support the flag that floats above your head, Mr. Speaker, he now displays toward it the same spirit of opposition he did when he struck at that flag thirty years ago. I have a right to say it because he himself has said it."

Mr. Simpson (Kan.), Mr. Cox (Tenn.) and Mr. Moses (Ga) were drawn into the controversy. Feeling ran high and it looked for several minutes as if a personal encounter might occur. Mr. Simpson continued to taunt Mr. Jones, declaring that he was not only surprised, but ashamed that a man should come from the south and say that he still believed in the

He was white with rage. and, while deprecating the continual appeal to sectional passions, asserted that such appeals usually came from men who were invisible in time of war and invincible in time of peace. "As to the lost cause," he shouted, "it is the everlasting cause and never can be lost."

Mr Jones got the floor just before the time for adjournment was reached. He branded Cooper's language toward him as language unworthy of a gentleman. "I want to say," he added, "that when the question was asked me last week I answered that I was proud of the lost cause. To say I b dieved every cause was right was a slander. I always said and maintained everywhere, as I do now, that I know that cause was right." At this point the hour of 18:30 arrived

MONTANA'S CATTLE QUEEN.

Mrs. Collins Has Been Captured by Indians and Led in Adventurous Life. One of the conspictions exhibits in the Members building of the World's fair was a life size licture of Mrs. Her Collins, who has been known me and wide ter agicut the wist for a numthe of years as The Cattle Squeen of Mourana." The story of Mrs. Collins' half century of life reads like a mis, and coulds, dime novel When a more slip of a gord not yet in her trees, the and her father reached Denver, which their consisted of two log cabins and a tent. Enter, while on lecway east to offend school, the ways train was early a late bashing. The men who were not bill of charing the defens of the train were offerward fortured to death, and a spite her tender years Mrs. Collins was compelled to run the gant-let. She dashed between the two long lines of Indians, and the savages struck at her with clubs and tomahawks as she went by. She escaped the dreadful ordeal alive, but a tomahawk struck her of which she will bear to her grave. One of the chiefs took a fancy to her and gave her to his little daughter as a playmate. The same day she saw the Indians burn a Mexican captive at the stake. After a captivity of about eight months she was resented by a party of white men'and restored to her father.

in the neck, inflicting a wound the scar

She and her brother then joined a wagon train as cook and teamster, respectively, and made a dozen trips across the plains from the Rocky mountains to the Missouri river. She was the only woman in the train, and the men were rough follows, but her brother proved an able protector. She saved considerable money, married, and with her husband entered the cattle business in Montana before the territory achieved statehood.

She is now a rich woman, and thousands of cattle bear the Collins brand. There is hardly a phase of rough life on the frontier that she is not familian with. In the early days in Montana the only law was the law of Judge Lynch. and Mrs. Collins has seen many rough characters swung into eternity by the ready hands of the vigilantes. She has also tried her hand at mining and has taken part in seven rushes to new diggings. Despite her maulike life, she is still very much of a woman, and many a sick cowboy has been nursed back to health by Aunty Collins.

DENBY'S DANGEROUS POST.

Just Now the American Legation at Peking Is a Position of Peril.

A position in the diplomatic service of the United States at $12,000 a year is regarded as a "soft snap" by many people. Some of the diplomatic stations in foreign countries may come under this head, but there is at least one $12,-000 position that is far from being a "snap" just at present. This is the post of the Hon. Charles Denby, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to China. Owing to Chinese hatred of foreigners, the mission at Peking is never particularly agreeable, but at present, when a Japanese army is threatening the Chinese capital, the mission is positively perilous.

The Chinese government is notoriously incapable of controlling the mobs that occasionally vent their hatred upon the foreigners in her large cities, but despite this fact she objects to the presence of an armed guard at the various legations. Not long ago Minister Den-

AMERICAN LEGATION AT PERING. by cabled the state department in Wash ington that the American legation was in danger, owing to the inflamed passions of the Chinese, and asked that a detachment of marines be detailed from one of the United States warships in Chinese waters to guard the building. The Chinese government refused to permit this, however, and further compelled the various foreign legations to send away the few men already on duty, solemply declaring that the Chinese government would protect the legations and their property.

The American legation at Peking is a one story building that makes up in area what it lacks in height. The office and parlor are both large apartments, and the latter is handsomely farnished with upholstered American furniture. There is no social intercourse between the Chinese officials and the foreign diplomats. The Chinese consider an alien litthe better than a deg, no matter whether the alien is an envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary or not. Even the Chinese camployees of the legation dare not speak to their masters on the street, for if they did so they would be cut by all their fire ads. China has never had any use for foreigners. They have forced their way in at the point of the bayonet, and China will treat them no better than she is compelled to.

No Tuesday Weddings In Madrid. There is a Spanish proverb that "Tuesday one should neither travel nor marry," and this superstition is so ingrained that even in Madrid there are never any weddings Tuesday, and the trains are almost empty.

A FAMILIAR FACE

But She Made a Mistake When She Thought She Knew Him Personally. She was a very absentminded young person, and the two girls who were with her in the car were not at all surprised when she leaned over and whispered:

"Oh, dear me, who can that man be? Itis face is so familiar that I must know him, but I can't place him."
"He looks—well, rather showy," said the girl with the leafnette, "I don't know where you could have met bim." "Oh, well, perhaps he is one of those rough diamonds her brother Edgar has been bringing to the house since he came back from west," said the girl with the mountainous siceves.

"Maybe that was it. He looks as if he knew me. Oh, dear, he will think me aw-fully rude! Girls, shall I speak to him?" "Why, of course, if you are sure that you really know him, Luin," said the girl with the larguette, "but do be careful, for you know you are"-Absentminded? Oh, I know it! I shall certainly have to take one of those courses of memory development or what-ever they are."

"He is leading at you awfully hard, Lulu," said the girl with the mountainous sleeves.

"Oh, I must know him! I shall have to She leaned forward and gave the flashily dressed young man at the end of the car a charming ned and smile. "I had to be more friendly than I would otherwise have been, because I did not speak at first," she observed. "Oh, yes," returned the girl with the mountainous sleeves, "you know I never can remember names, and I am always perfectly lovely to people when I can't think what to call them." 'Yes, for then they may not notice,

"Girls," interrupted the girl with the lorgnette, "do look at him! He has spoken to that awful looking person with him, and they are nudging each other and staring at us. They evidently fancy that we wanted to attract their attention.' "Look here, Lulu," sternly remarked the girl with the mountainous sleeves, "I want you to think whether you really know that man, and, if so, who he is."

Then Lulu gave a little scream. "Good gracious, girls, stop the car!" she cried. 'I do know now just who ha is! He-he is the young man who used to come to see our cook! No wonder his face is familiar, for he hung about the kitchen all the time, and we had to discharge her on that account. Oh, girls, let me cut first, or I shall faint!"—Chicago Tribune.

miraculous cures made by Dr. Kennedv's Favorite Remedy, at Athens, N. Y., and other places, resulted in the Albany, N. Y., Journal sending a special representative to Athens to investigate the cases, and it was found that many of the cures incde by this medicine were simply wonderfully.

In the cases of Mr. Lewis Clow, who had caronic kidney disease, Mrs. Casper Brooks suffering from female troubles, and Mrs. William Tiffany, who suffered from general prostration, all of these cases were abandoned by their attending physicians. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was then used by them and in every case an absolute cure was effected.

To Investigate Alleged Crookedness. Si Patt. Jan. 19 -In the house Mr Feigrealled up his resolution to investigate the financial status of public funds which are alleged to be deposited in the interest of and for the benefit of those public officials having them in charge. He did not say that the state treasurers of Minn sota had been doing wrong. He said newspaper reports of illegal gains by state or other public treasuries gave the amount as from $150,000 to $200.00. The reports showed over $390.000 of state funds deposned in the banks that have failed. He wanted proof of the truth or talsity of th charges. The resolution was adopted.

The San's Albany correspondent estimates that sir ce Jan. 1st not less than 10,000 Regublicans have made application for places under the State government. Hungry don't describe the condition of the horde of Republican office seekers

The three women members of Colorado's Legislature have developed a capacity for squabbling overpetty details that has seriously interfered with the transaction of public business. They raise all sorts of objections, are sticklers for the observance of technicalities and have incurred the ili will of so many members that their usefulness as legislators is already sorely crippled.

The Philadelphia Fress, the leading Republican paper of the Quaker ains." City, is heartily supporting ex-Gov. Pattison for Mayor and predicts his election by an overwhelming majority. It says that the revolt against Warwick a candidacy extends to all classes of Republican voters for "Reformers, Stalwarts and men of average manhood in every circle from the highest to the lowest, resent the control of a great city like Philadelphia by Lobbyist Martin and Contractor Porter."

The suggestion that the whole currency question be referred to a commission of financial men, who shall hear witnesses and report corclusions at the next session of Congress, is received with general fayor. The country's experience with commissions has not been entirely satisfactory but the views of Congressmen are so diverse and in so many cases so impracticable, and so many Congressmen are but poorly informed on this important subject that reference to a commission seems the best way to obtain the counsel and mature judgment of those best qualified to devise a new currency system, free from the evils that make our present system unstable and unsale.

The verdict of $250 rendered, yesterday, in Alderman Kelly's $5 000 libel suit against the Newburgh Register, is perhapt large enough to vindicate Mr. Kelly, but is far from large enough to make his venture in the courts a financial success. It was shown on the trial of the case that the Register, fighting the battle of the taxpayers against what it re garded as an iniquitous scheme, had struct at Mr Kelley, not because of any personal feeling or malice, but because he was sponsor for the plan blo as revoganzula, 000 000 ser an old building as a cit, hall In its al, the Reg ster hit too had and below the belt, by imputing personal dishonesty to Mr Klly. OBITUARY.

Robert L. Brown

Mr. Robert L. Brown, one of the oldest, best known and most universally respected citizens of the town of Crawford, died at his home in the Graham Church nelghoorhood, Frioay morning,of pneumonia, after an illness of a week, aged about eighty

Mr. Brown was a man of the highest character, scrupulously honorable in all bis dealings and enjoyed in the fullest degree the confidence of the community in which he lived and of all who knew him. He was appointed one of the Railroad Comat the time it issued bonds in aid of the construction of the Middletown and Crawford road and held that office up to the time of his death. He also held at different times a number of town offices. He was for very many years a consistent member of Grace Church.

Mr. Brown is survived by his widow, and one daughter, Ella, wife C. L. Deuel, 16 Benton Ave., last of Mr. Alex. Crawford, of Stony Ford. A son, John, died about twenty years ago.

The funeral will be held from his late eesidence, Monday afternoon.

ONLY A SCARE.

Light From an Oil Stove

Mr. C H. Brink was called down town, last night, by a well meaning friend, who told him he thought the bottom of the stove in his office had dropped out and if not promptly attended to the building would be set

Mr. Brink found several firemen at the door, when he arrived, who were about to force an entrance, but a glance convinced him that everything was all right.

An oil heater had been left burning and the flame had blackened the mics, and the light behind it looked very much like a flame seen through smoke.

One Outspoken Passenger Agent.

Of all the excuses made by railroad officials for the abelition of the half fare rate to clergymen, but one ger agent of one of the trunk lineswas bonest and manly enough to give the only sensible reason and that was: "I don't think ministers are entitled to any better rates than other persons."

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A Man Asieen in a Sielzh on the Electric Road-waved by a Vigitant Motor

But for the watchfulness of Motorman Ballantine an accident would have happened between the O. and W. bridge and Mechanictown, last night. It was snowing hard at the time and everything in days' visit to her eleter, Mrs. J. D. sight was white. He thought he saw an object on the track and applied the brake just in time, for there was a house attached to a sleigh between the rails. A man was sleeting soundly in the sleigh, who, when awakened by Mr. Ballactine, sald he was lost and that he lived near Port Jetvie. The man was piloted to a farm house near by, where he found stelter for the night.

A Gift to the Public Library-Some Personal Notes-No Trespassing Allowed-Apropos of Fairy Codmothers -The Work of a Magleian.

From a Special Correspondent

-The members of the K. Y. Z. Book Club held a meeting, Monday afternoon, at the residence of the Treasurer, Miss Annie VanSickle, for the purpose of voting upon the disposition to be made of the books purchased by the club, last year. It was decided to give them to the public library.

-Miss Mabel Fargo, for several years a pupil at Miss Hogarth's school in this village, died, Thursday, of pneumonia at the home of her aunt, Mrs. George Wild, in New York city.

-Miss Antoinette Dessaye, of Mrs. Maison at St. James's rectory. -Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gott will spend Sunday in Brooklyn, as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Pell.

-It is stated in a certain newspaper that one farm devoted to the delightful industry of skunk raising, is enclosed within a high board fence, "to keep away unwelcome intruders." One would think that even the most pushing person would hesitate before intruding upon a skunk farm, as the rights of these little animals are generally pretty well recognized and respected. It would seem that the privacy of the persons living there should be as well assured as that of the late Alexander Selkirk.

-Who has not longed at some time in his or her life for a fairy godmother? There are so many times when the appearance of one would be so very opportune. Falling this convenient person, possibly as good a substitute as could be found is a happy disposition, for that is a gift that inevitably brightens the life of every one who comes under its influence and can work as great vinders as turning pumpkins into enariots and rats and mice into coachmen and footmen, and speaking of wonderful changes, no necromancer or wizard could, with a touch of his magical wand, have wrought a more remarkable enchantment than did last Wednesday's snow storm. Even the most commonplace objects were rendered temporarily beautiful, disquised and glorified by their soft covering. Early rising is not a thing to be lightly recommended, for it generally either makes one cross for the whole day, or else so disagreeably virtuous Francis A. and superior, as to be unendurable, and superior, as to be unendurable, | V7. THE PRESIDENT COMING TO MID DLETOWN.

The Sick May Receive Medical Services Free of Charge.

The President and members of the European and American Staff of German, English, Irish, Scandinavian and American Doctors of New York city will be at the Russell House, Middletown, on Tuesday, January 29th, one day only. The sick and afflicted may consult them without charge during their stay.

If you are incurable they will tell you: therefore invalids must not take offence if they are rejected, as no case will be accepted unless there is a moral certainty of a cure being effected. These Doctors are graduates of the best universities of Europe and America; they are of the highest standing in the medical profession and have had unlimited experience in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases and Deformities. As the latest methods, instruments and appliances of the various schools of both the Old and the New World are familiar to and at the command of this staff of doctors, it is reasonable to believe that in ninety cases out of every hundred a cure can be effected, even when the patients have been given up as incurable by doctors who have had less experience. Do not be discouraged because your doctor cannot give you relief, or even if he tells you that you cannot get well, for it matters not what your disease may be, you can consult the doctors free, and, if curable, they will treat you; if incurable, they will give you such advice as will tend to prolong life and afford you the greatest relief.

She drew her hand away. It seemed cowardly to leave her there alone. Once I started to turn back, but her looks forbade me.

"At the end of the avenue I was stopped by an officer and four soldiers and placed under arrest. Before I could realizo what had happened they were going through my mockets. "They found nothing of importance, except my credentials and passport, until one man discovered the envelope handed me by Miss Villiers. He tore it open, and a miniature fell to the ground. This seemed to satisfy him, and he ordered my release.

"I followed the officers to the house and went with them through room after room, searching for her. Finally they entered the parler, where I had left her 15 minutes before. She was there still. She had not left the spot where she was standing when I said goodby. "She had fallen to the floor. Her right arm lay outstretched, grasping the pistol I had given her. A narrow crimson stream, yet fresh and warm, had coursed half across the carpet and formed a pool just where the light fell full upon it. "-Atlanta Constitution.

Figuring It Out.

The journey was long, and the old lady with the plaid shawl thought to beguile the time by a conversation with the tailor made girl who sat with her. "Live in the city?" asked the old lady. "Yes. Work there," answered the girl and said nothing more. "Might I ask what you work at?" "Figures."

This seemed discouraging, but the old lady plucked up her nerve and asked: "Figures? Livin picters or bookkeepin?"---Washington Star.

THE COUNTY'S PAUPERS AND DE-PENDENTS.

Preparing for the New System of Supporting the Poor by Towns-Classitying the lumintes of the Alms House and Children's Homes-Founs Whose Burdens Will Be Increased by the

At the last meeting of the Board of Supervisors a resolution was adopted making each town responsible for the care and maintenance of its own paupers and dependent poor, one ob ject belig to get rid of paupers who do not belong to the county. It was argu d by friends of the measure that under the cld system a poormaster was haid for taking a pauper to the courty house, and as the experse of his maintenance was borne by the county at large, the interest of the poormuster ceased with securing his the for the pauper's commitment. Under the new arrangement, it is believed that, as the cost of maintenance of paupers must be borne by the town from which they are sent to an institution, only those who are residents will be committed, and that those who are not residents of Orange County will not be supported by the t. xp wers of the courty, as has been the case too often urder the old system.

Under this resolution, Supervisors John Patterson, of Woodbury, Nelson W. Wood, of Miadletown, S. D. Roberson, of Crawford, George Durland, of Greenville, and Horaco D. Thompson, of Wallkill, were appointed a committee to visit the several institutions of the county and ascertain by an examination of the records and by interviews with the inmates, to what town they belonged.

The committee completed its work, yesterday, after visiting St. Mary's Orphan Asylum in Port Jervis. Through the courtesy of Messrs. Wood and Roberson, of the committee, the Angus is permitted to publish the result of the investigation.

The committee found that, outside of the city and town of Newburgh, which have for years cared for their own poor, the number of persons receiving support or aid from the courty is $\overline{2}30$, of whom 41 are receiving temporary relief. Of the remainder, 126 are at Orange Farm, 13 at the Children's Home in this city, and 50 at St. Mary's Orphan Asylum in Port Tervis. In addition, there are six persons who have no place of residence, so far as the committee could learn.

The following table shows the number of persons in each institution, and the towns to which their maintenance is chargeable and the number in each town receiving temporary relief:

oPrevious to 1500, It will be seen that the new system will make a very material difference in the cost of maintaining the poor its proportion for the support of the poor of the county, will be exempt altogether, for it has no dependent poor. Blooming Grove, Crawford and Wawayanda have but two each and Greenville three, which will make the burden very light. On the other hand Deerpark has forty-seven persons whom it will be required to care for, Goshen comes next with thirty-eight; Warwick has twentytwo, Chester ten; Mount Hope eight; Montgomery seventeen; Tuxedo ten and New Windsor and Wallkill seven each. Middletown city has twenty-six, of whom sixteen are at Orange Tarm, one at the Children's Home, one at St Mary's and eight receiving temporary relief. While the cost to Middletown for the support of its mor will be a considerable sum, the burden will not be as heavy as that of several other towns in proportion to its population and taxable proper-

THE OFIG NAL "RIC-MOND HILL! The Beautiful suburb of Brooklyn After Which the Stratton & Corey Tract Is Named.

If any such success attends the real estate enterprise of Messra. Stratton & Corey, "Richmond Hill," as has resulted to another earlier "Richmond Hill," in the widely extended area of wow the city of Brooklyn, they will be showered with felicitations. The Brooklyn "Richmond Hill" was, a a few years ago, miles "way out in the country," but since then many acres of the tract have been subdivided into lots with great success, they seiling at constantly appreciating prices. Mesers. Stratton & Coley in designating their purchase, "Richmond H ll," chose a "lucky number," but there is this to be thought of: if Stratton & Corey's "Richmond Hill" keeps on growing there will be two "Richmond Hills" in the State, to the confusion of postal clerks, and confusion of the
